

We are grateful to our donors

Our donors exemplify unity in action through their commitment to UN Women. In 2023, UN Women received USD 562.9 million in total contributions, an increase of 3.2 per cent over 2022 (USD 545.4 million).

Core, or Regular Resources (RR), increased by 7 per cent, from USD 153.3 million in 2022 to USD 164.1 million in 2023, and non-core or Other Resources (OR) grew by 1.5 per cent, from USD 382.7 million in 2022 to USD 388.3 million in 2023, surpassing the integrated budget projections (USD 300m) for the fifth year in a row. For the third time in the history of UN Women, RR growth outpaced OR growth. This is an affirmation of support for UN Women's mandate during a critical period. We are grateful to our 182 funding partners, especially to Germany, Finland, Switzerland, the United States, and Denmark, who were the top five RR contributors, and to governments that substantially increased RR contributions in 2023, namely Germany, the United States, the Republic of Korea, Spain, and Iceland.

We appreciate our top five total (RR and OR) funding partners: the Multi-Partner Trust Fund Office, Sweden, Germany, the European Commission, and Finland, and our top five OR private sector partners: the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, the Foundation to Promote Open Society, the Ford Foundation, BHP Billiton Foundation, and De Beers PLC.

In 2023, UN Women surpassed funding milestones for both the public and private sectors. We continued to enlarge our partner base, achieving an 18 per cent increase in active partners through expanded engagements with the private sector and international financial institutions.

UN Women National Committees increased contributions to regular resources by 24 per cent compared to 2022 based on higher levels of giving by individuals committed to gender equality and women's empowerment.
