Proposed financial regulations and rules for the United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women

Summary

The present report presents the proposed financial regulations and rules for the United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women (UN-Women) pursuant to General Assembly resolution 64/289 of 2 July 2010. The proposed financial regulations and rules, contained in the annex to the report, are submitted for the consideration of the Executive Board of UN-Women. A comparison between the proposed financial regulations and rules for UN-Women and the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations Development Programme and of the United Nations Population Fund is contained in the addendum to the report (UNW/2011/5/Add.1), which provides explanations for deviations from the aforementioned documents. The views expressed by the Office of the Controller and the Office of Legal Affairs have been taken into account in the proposed financial regulations and rules.

The report of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions on the proposed financial regulations and rules is contained in document UNW/2011/7.

The Executive Board may wish to review and approve the proposed financial regulations and rules for UN-Women.

I. Introduction

1. In paragraph 79 of its resolution 64/289 on system-wide coherence, the General Assembly decided that the operational activities of the United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women (UN-Women) should have financial regulations and rules similar to those of other operational United Nations funds and programmes, and consistent with the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations,¹ and in that regard requested the Under-Secretary-General/head of the Entity to present a proposal for financial regulations, for consideration and adoption by the Executive Board, and to promulgate the financial rules.

2. The proposed financial regulations and rules, set out in the annex to the present report, are drawn primarily from the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA); some are drawn from those of the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP).

3. The Financial Regulations and Rules of UNFPA are used as a primary source, in line with paragraph 79 of resolution 64/289, the founding resolution of UN-Women, and in view of the similarities between UN-Women and UNFPA in terms of the expected scale and scope of funding and operational activities. Also taken into consideration are similarities between UNFPA and UN-Women in terms of the expected scale and configuration of their presence in programme countries and reliance on UNDP for a variety of operational support services in programme countries and at Headquarters. The Financial Regulations and Rules of UNFPA were also considered more appropriate as they have been more recently revised to address changes needed to prepare for implementation of the International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS).

4. The operational relationship between UNDP and UN-Women will be defined through service-level agreements similar to that between UNFPA and UNDP.

5. Given the breadth of the mandate of UN-Women, it was deemed advisable to adopt some of the Financial Regulations and Rules of UNDP. Thus, UN-Women has taken the Financial Regulations and Rules of UNFPA as the base reference and, where appropriate, departed from them and adopted provisions of the Financial Regulations and Rules of UNDP.

6. The proposed financial regulations and rules for UN-Women take into consideration the grant modality approved for the use of United Nations regular budget resources available to UN-Women.

II. Explanation for deviation from source provisions

7. The main differences between the proposed financial regulations and rules for UN-Women and the source provisions of UNFPA and UNDP are due to the following factors:

(a) Combination of assessed and voluntary contributions. UN-Women, unlike UNFPA and UNDP, is partially funded from assessed contributions, which must be reported to, inter alia, the Fifth Committee of the General Assembly, as stipulated in resolution 65/259 on questions relating to the programme budget for the biennium 2010-2011 and in resolution 64/289, with respect to the use of the regular budget, and to the Executive Board, with respect to voluntary contributions. The composite nature of the organization has resulted in a number of differences between the proposed financial regulations and rules for UN-Women and the source provisions of UNDP and UNFPA, reflecting some of the procedures of the United Nations Environment Programme and the United Nations Human Settlements Programme. The proposed financial regulations and rules affected include regulations 2.1, 3.5, 8.1, 11.1, 13.1, 13.4, 13.5, 15.1, 15.2, 15.3 and 15.4 and rules 302 and 1501;

(b) Level of operational reserve. It is proposed in regulation 19.2 that the level of the operational reserve be calculated in accordance with guidelines issued by the Under-Secretary-General/Executive Director rather than at 20 per cent of total regular revenue for that year as provided in UNFPA rule 112.1;

(c) Accountability and audit. UN-Women has added the wording “while retaining all accountability” to rule 202 to address a comment by the United Nations Controller, clarifying that while responsibility can be delegated, accountability cannot. In addition, the changes from “External audit” as shown in UNFPA regulation 17.1 to “United Nations Board of Auditors” in UN-Women regulation 26.1 was also made in response to the proposal of the Controller;

(d) IPSAS implementation. UN-Women followed the source provision for its regulation 12.1, World Food Programme (WFP) regulation 13.1, because only WFP has implemented IPSAS to date; UNDP and UNFPA have yet to implement IPSAS.

Additional and more specific explanations of the deviations from source financial regulations and rules are set out in the addendum to the present report (UNW/2011/5/Add.1).

8. The preparation of the proposed financial regulations and rules was undertaken within a short time frame in response to resolution 64/289, paragraph 79, requiring the Under-Secretary-General/Executive Director to present a proposal for financial regulations and rules for UN-Women for consideration and adoption by the Executive Board.

Rule 2401

The Director, Division of Management and Administration, under delegated authority from the Under-Secretary-General/Executive Director, is the Chief Procurement Officer for UN-Women and is accountable to the Under-Secretary-General/Executive Director for all procurement functions of UN-Women at all its locations, except for those procurement actions governed by subparagraph (ii) below. The Chief Procurement Officer may further delegate authority to staff at Headquarters and other locations, as may be appropriate in fulfilling the purposes of these rules. Hereinafter, references to the Chief Procurement Officer shall also be understood to mean, as appropriate, those acting under delegated authority from the Chief Procurement Officer.

Rule 2403

Consistent with the provisions contained in regulation 24.2 above, and except as otherwise provided below, procurement contracts shall be awarded on the basis of effective competition, and, to this end, the competitive process shall, as necessary, include:

- (a) Acquisition planning for developing an overall procurement strategy and procurement methodologies;
- (b) Market research for identifying potential suppliers;
- (c) Consideration of prudent commercial practices; and
- (d) Formal methods of solicitation, utilizing invitations to bid or requests for proposals on the basis of advertisement or direct solicitation of invited suppliers; or informal methods of solicitation, such as requests for quotations.

The Chief Procurement Officer shall issue administrative instructions concerning the types of procurement activities and monetary values for which such methods of solicitation are to be used.

Rule 2404

The award of a procurement contract shall be made after due consideration has been given to the general principles described in regulation 24.2 and in accordance with the following:

The Chief Procurement Officer may, in the interest of UN-Women, reject bids or proposals for a particular procurement action, recording the reasons for rejection in writing. The Chief Procurement Officer shall then determine whether to undertake a new solicitation, or to directly negotiate a procurement contract pursuant to rule 2407 below, or to terminate or suspend the procurement action.

The Chief Procurement Officer may determine for a particular procurement action that using formal methods of solicitation is not in the best interest of UN-Women:

(a) When the value of the procurement is below the monetary amount established for formal methods of solicitation;

(g) When the proposed procurement contract is for the purchase or lease of real property;

(h) When there is a genuine exigency for the requirement;

(i) When the proposed procurement contract relates to obtaining services that cannot be objectively evaluated; or

(j) When the Chief Procurement Officer otherwise determines that a formal solicitation will not give satisfactory results.

When a determination is made pursuant to subparagraphs (a) to (j) above, the Chief Procurement Officer shall record the reasons in writing and may then award a procurement contract, either on the basis of an informal method of solicitation, or on the basis of a directly negotiated contract, to a qualified vendor whose offer substantially conforms to the requirement at an acceptable price.

Rule 2406

Written procurement contracts shall be used to formalize every procurement for a monetary value over specific thresholds established by the Chief Procurement Officer. Such arrangements shall, as appropriate, specify in detail:

- (e) Conditions to be fulfilled, including the UN-Women conditions of contract;
- (f) Terms of delivery and payment; and

The requirement for written procurement contracts shall not be interpreted to restrict the use of any electronic means of data interchange. Before using any electronic means of data interchange, the Chief Procurement Officer shall ensure that the electronic data interchange system is capable of ensuring authentication and confidentiality of the information.

Rule 2407

Except where normal commercial practice or the interests of UN-Women so require, no contract shall be made on behalf of UN-Women that requires a payment or payments in advance of the delivery of products or the performance of contractual services. Whenever an advance payment is agreed in accordance with administrative instructions and justification issued by the Chief Procurement Officer, the reason therefor shall be recorded.
